THE NEW PREACHER

REV. CHARLES H. SCOTT WANTS THE WAR TO BE FOUGHT TO A FINISH

The new Methodist preacher, Rev. Charles H. Scott, and Mrs. Scott and the five little Scotts have moved to Glendale and established themselves in the house vacated by Mr. Snudden at 313 North Jackson street.

In his personality the new pastor of the First Methodist Church reminds the Glendalian of another preacher, Rev. W. E. Edmonds, and like that fiery patriot, Mr. Scott would fight the war to a finish and to the complete rout of German autocracy. So anxious is he to see a good job done that he admits it has been harder for him to stay than to go. In fact, he quite envies his old friend "Ben" Snudden for his chance to go "over there"; but on the other hand he consider himself fortunate in taking up the tasks begun by Mr. Snudden, who was his chum years ago in "the academy," when both entered to earn their way through school after an interval of years out of the school room when they were bread winners and lost the habit of study. Their similar circumstances drew them together and one night they would study at Ben's room, the next night at Charles', and a very warm regard grew up between them. Clyde H. Bott, the book-seller, and Oliver Clark, the attorney, were also college friends of Mr. Scott, so he comes to Glendale not quite a stranger. He would not long remain so in any event as energy and friendliness appear to be his dominating characteristics, and he has announced that if the embargo is going to put a ban on meeting his people face to face from the pulpit, he will not be balked but will begin pushing doorbells and get acquainted any way.

He says that he witnessed the opening of the war as did most Americans with the feeling it was not our war and we would do well to remember Washington's admonition to avoid complications with European politics. The British were slow to realize the animus and meaning of the war and Americans were equally slow to awake to a realization of the fact that freedom and civilization for the world were at stake. Now he is convinced the war spirit is more thoroughly fused with popular sentiment in America than in any other nation at war, not even excepting England. Once having committed herself, America is wholesouledly in the war to a finish and will never entertain a negotiated peace, in his opinion. The American ideal he thinks was expressed by the soldier coming home to his wife and babies with an honorable discharge, minus a leg and an arm but nevertheless perfectly cheerful over the sacrifice he had made in the great cause. That soldier was quoted as saying, "If our government negotiates any cheap, easy peace with those people, I will feel I got a dirty deal."

Like others, Mr. Scott has come to have a much larger vision of this world conflict than was possible when it began. To him it is now the great crucible which is melting autocracy, religious as well as military, and breaking down caste of all sorts. He finds very significant the fact that the men of an essentially pacifist nation have been able to vanquish with their own weapons the men trained in and inspired by the ideals of a military autocracy. His explanation of this wonder is that the American army is made up of lawyers, merchants, farmers, mechanics, doctors, chemists, manufacturers, laborers who have concentrated their minds on soldiering for a few short weeks of intensive training. Because of their intelligence, concentration and devotion to an ideal, they make good soldiers, but they are also the other things as well and whenever an emergency calls for a doctor, a horse trainer, a foundryman, a tailor, a cook, a man is always to be found to meet the need. It is this resourcefulness of the American, this adaptability, and above all the great impelling ideal behind the man behind the gun which is responsible, he thinks, for the victories won by our men which have filled the American heart and the hearts of her allies with thanksgiving.

Mr. Scott has equal faith in the patriot at home and believes that whatever sacrifices may be required, great though they may be, will be met cheerfully to the last dollar needed by the government to prosecute this war to the kind of a victory America demands and our soldiers are struggling to achieve.

That America could give her sons and then withhold the dollars needed to sustain them in war, is a thing too incredible to be entertained for an instant, and he predicts a great rush to buy bonds today which will put the U. S. A. over the top and prove to the Hun that every American is in this war first, last and all the time.

PHYSICAL TESTS SCHEDULED FOR FOUR DAYS BEGINNING OCTOBER 22

Chairman Lanterman reports that the local Exemption Board has completed classifications on ninety per cent of its Questionnaires, and has ordered physical examinations to begin Tuesday, October 22d. Notices have been sent to 225 registrants and the examinations will continue for four days. Doctors Boyer, Conrad, Chase and Harrower have been notified to be ready to make the general physical examinations, Dr. C. R. Lusby will examine the teeth of registrants and Doctor Marlenee their eyes. On account of the demands upon their time, arrangements have been so perfected that each physician will be required to give only an hour a day to this work. The preliminary examinations will be made in the court room of Judge Lowe, in the City Hall on Broadway near Glendale avenue, which the Judge has kindly loaned for the purpose.

NO "FLU" AT REST HOME

Mrs. Moberly of the Mission Rest Home on San Fernando boulevard reports that they have been exceedingly fortunate in that they have had no cases of Spanish influenza in the institution, none of their patients having even a cold. The home has fifty inmates and Mr. and Mrs. Moberly have been compelled to make alterations in the interior to provide more rooms to meet the demands made upon them.

MOTOR TO SANTA BARBARA

It was eminently successful in both respects. Paul Eldridge was the chauffeur of the party. Paul is the captain of the strong South Pasadena football team which is soon to play in Glendale. The Kirks got home last evening.

MR. RATHBUN ILL

Ralph Rathbun, brother of Mrs. J. H. Nash of 141 West Park avenue, who several weeks ago drove down by auto from San Francisco for a two weeks' visit with his sister, was taken suddenly ill and has since been compelled to undergo four operations, is now well enough to be up and around the house and hopes soon to be fit to return to his home in the Bay City. His father was also the guest of Mrs. Nash for several weeks, but he has now gone back to his home in Texas.

WILSON TURNS DOWN AUSTRIAN PEACE NOTE

SAYS HIS RECOGNITION OF JUGO-SLAVS AND CZECHO-SLOVAKS HAS ALTERED CONDITIONS SINCE JANUARY 6

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, October 19.—President Wilson today answered the Austrian peace offer, refusing to accept it. He said conditions have become so altered since January 6 that now it is impossible for the United States to accept autonomy for the Austrian nations as a sufficient basis for peace.

He pointed out that the United States has recognized claims of the Jugo-Slavs to nationalistic aspirations and has recognized the Czecho-Slovaks as a belligerent government. In conclusion he said, "We are no longer at liberty to accept mere autonomy for these peoples as a basis for peace and are obliged to insist that they and not we be the judge of what acts on the part of Austria-Hungary will satisfy their aspirations, their conception of their rights and their destiny as members of the family of nations."

BELGIANS REACH ZEEBRUGGE-BRUGES CANAL

ALLIES ARE MAKING ADVANCES EVERYWHERE ON WESTERN FRONT, LATE DISPATCHES INDICATE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, October 19.—Battle front reports at noon today said the German defenses southeast of Bruges have been broken. The Belgians have reached the Zeebrugge-Bruges canal. The Germans are reported to be still holding the outskirts of Zeebrugge.

General Haig reported that the Anglo-American attack between Bohain and Le Cateau had captured Mazinghein and Bazuel. He confirmed reports of the capture of Wassingny.

Haig's report showed that yesterday's attack between Lille and Douai had gained five miles and that three miles additional was added to this advance early today, bringing the allies within eight miles of Tournay.

The French crossing the Guise canal reached a point a mile and a quarter from Guise. The French war office reported that last night the French first army drove the enemy from the west bank of the Oise, despite the order to the Germans to hold the line at all costs. They reached the canal from a point east of Adigny forest to north of Hauterville, having captured Hannapes, Tupigny, Noyalles, and numerous other towns bordering the canal.

Late reports this afternoon from the battle front said the French had captured Vandy four miles north of Vouziers, indicating that the allies had either taken Vouziers or rendered it untenable.

The Amsterdam Telegraf announced that the allies had reached Eccloo shoving 6000 Germans against the Dutch frontier. This represents an advance of fourteen miles beyond Bruges.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, October 19.—The Americans today launched a new attack in the region of Zigneuil and Dentheul, advancing a mile and a quarter. At noon they were organizing their new positions.

The Germans are engaged in hastily strengthening their defenses along the heights west of Ainceville and located a mile from the present line.

REPORT OF KAISER'S ABDICATION BELIEVED

LONDON CHRONICLE SAYS WILHELM WAS ACTUALLY OFF HIS THRONE FOR SEVERAL HOURS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, October 19.—The London Chronicle says it understands the Kaiser actually abdicated several days ago and was actually off his throne for several hours and probably signed abdication papers. The Chronicle says he had accepted and was arranging for an armistice under President Wilson's complete terms when the ruling class interfered, caused cancellation of the note to Wilson and restored the Kaiser to his throne.

BURIAN'S RESIGNATION CONFIRMED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ZURICH, October 19.—Vienna newspapers confirm the report that Austrian Premier Burian has resigned.

DRAW FIRE OF FRITZ

REV. E. H. WILLISFORD AND PARTY VISIT THE FRONT AND HAVE TO DODGE SHELLS

June 26.—Today I have seen an impressive sight. Just at sunset one third of all our men, fully equipped, swung into line and marched away toward one of the fronts. Some sang as they left—it was their first experience. Some were very quiet—we can always tell the new from the old.

The "cooties" have found me. The upper part of my body looks as if I had the small-pox—the first trouble of the kind I have had.

June 30—I have had some more interesting experiences. Last night I went with our business secretary to Beaumont, where I was when I first went to the front. We found there Rev. J. H. Odell, who writes for the Outlook, and E. H. Cluett, of the firm of Peabody, Cluett & Co., who make "Arrow" collars. They wanted to visit the front line trenches and Seichprey, where on April 20 a battle was fought, but there was no one to guide them; so I offered my services, which were gladly accepted. We went as far as "No Man's Land." On returning Mr. C. wanted to take the road at Seichprey, so I told him I would go with him and we could take the trenches again at a certain place, the others of the party to continue by trench. When we were about 100 feet outside the village, bang! sizz! swish! came a shell from Fritz especially for us. I jumped headfirst into a shell hole and shouted for Cluett to fall flat. In a moment all was quiet and soon we could crawl back to the trench only about 25 feet away. Mr. Gossman of Long Beach is our Divisional secretary now.

July 2.—Dr. Patton (pastor of the First Congregational Church of Los Angeles) is here with me in my hut. He has just arrived and takes to the work like a duck to water. You should have seen him today with his coat off, his shirt unbuttoned at the neck, with a self-made apron of tan-colored oilcloth in front of him, serving lemonade—he looked like a typical bartender. We had a lot of fun about it.

July 3—About three o'clock this morning I heard the big guns, so I called Dr. Patton and we dressed and went to the dugouts. Soon all was quiet and we returned and turned in. Had hardly gotten into a doze when we heard the gas alarm, so up we got, donned gas masks and made for the dugouts again. When all was O. K. again we returned to our tent and went to sleep fully dressed. The night before we had to get up for the gas alarm at 3:30 and that was Dr. Patton's first night. You see I am quite accustomed to these little nightly interruptions.

July 20.—Have moved this week. Our old tent and location were both poor and far from the dugouts. Now we have one large tent and it is right next to our dugout where we sleep every night and frequently we have to go there in the daytime. The dugout is about 4½ feet wide, 20 feet long and 5 feet high. Has board floor and boarded sides, logs on top and dirt on sides and top. There is an opening at each end so ventilation is good. We have electric light in both tent and dugout. Yesterday while wrecking the old tent with the aid of half a dozen men, Fritz took it upon himself to send over six shells. Some struck within 100 feet of us. We hit for a dugout, but in five minutes were back on the job. In our tent we have a table 30 feet long. A lot of men are writing there now. At small tables some men are writing, some playing checkers and dominoes. An account of our nearness to the front, our boys are changed often, so we serve many different men.

July 21.—I do enjoy the work and am glad to have a share in this great world movement. I do not think I could have been content to have remained at home. In all the years to come I shall look back upon this as the great year of my life. I just got to this point when William of Germany told his gunners to break up the quiet of our Sabbath afternoon, so they have just put over seven shells. We all hit for the dug. No damage done so far as I know. Some boy is back in the tent playing the piano and about 25 men are already here reading and writing. It is all a part of army life and it is good for the men that they can quickly get over any fear they may have.

Aug. 8.—We had a good quantity of new supplies in a few days ago and a lot of the men have been paid so we have had some extra busy days. A boy came in this morning with his pay. First, he had me send $15.00 home for him, then he bought one can of condensed milk, one can of evaporated milk, a package of bis-

$320,000 SUBSCRIPTION

MISS DANIELS, LOCAL SECRETARY MAKES GOOD LIBERTY LOAN REPORT

Miss Eva Daniels, one of the secretaries in charge at the Liberty Loan Headquarters on Brand boulevard, reports with very great satisfaction subscriptions to date for the Fourth Liberty Loan totalling $320,000. These subscriptions include some large purchases ranging from $15,000 to $1000, but the bulk of them are for $50 and $100 bond purchases by persons who have made sacrifices to take them. As announced yesterday, the First National Bank of Glendale, the Bank of Glendale and the First National Bank of Tropico will be open this evening to receive final subscriptions and Chairman Vesper and his co-workers hope to be in a position to make a complete report Monday or Tuesday of next week.

HONORS FOR GLENDALE

Dispatches from Santa Cruz, where the convention of the Grand Chapter of the Eastern Star has been in session the past week, report that Mrs Dan Campbell of this city was elected Grand Chaplain of the Grand Chapter, of which she is a member. Mrs. Campbell left here last Monday morning and will visit her sister in San Francisco before returning. Mr. Campbell expects her home in about ten days.

Miss Della Echols, who also went to Santa Cruz last Monday as the delegate of Glen Eyrie Chapter, this city, got home last night. Miss Echols is Matron of the local Chapter.

POLICE DOINGS

As a sample of the current activities of the Police Department, Chief Herald cites the arrest at midnight Thursday by Officer Garwood of a gentleman of color answering to the name of P. J. Fleming. In the opinion of the arresting officer he was behaving in a suspicious manner which would warrant the overhauling he got, an overhauling which disclosed in his hip pocket a long butcher knife recently sharpened, for which he had no satisfactory explanation. It is a forbidden weapon and P. J. was conducted to the community cell in the fire house and later, after a hearing before Judge Lowe, was sent to the county jail for the general good of society. What P. J. said in defense is not recorded.

EXCITEMENT IN LA CANADA

A case which is now being heard in Judge Summerfield's court, Los Angeles, has created considerable excitement in La Canada, where life is none too eventful, especially in war time. It grew out of the sale of the Couts ranch in Havendell, an attractive orchard of twenty-five acres, to Mr. Overell of the Overell Furniture Company, Los Angeles. The Couts claimed they did not sell with the property a water meter worth about $100. After Mr. Overell took possession of his property they (the Couts) moved the meter and Overell was obliged to get a new one and install it at his own expense before he could get water for irrigating. He is now suing in Summerfield's court for the return of the meter and for damages, etc. Vice-President White of the Valley Water Company, E. A. Brigham, Treasurer, and Captain Jamison, the Superintendent, are in attendance and onlookers predict that their witness fees by the time the case is settled and other costs of suit will equal the value of the meter.

DEATH OF HANNAH BOMBARD

Mrs. Hannah B. Bombard of this city passed away at her home at 314 Los Feliz road Friday afternoon, October 18th, 1918, at 2 o'clock. She had been in delicate health for several years but was a woman of energy and resolution who would not succumb to physical disabilities until compelled to do so, and she was confined to her bed for only two weeks. She and her husband came to the district then known as Tropico about ten years ago and the year following buried their son, Claud Bombard. Five years ago her husband passed away. She leaves one son, W. W. Bombard, who has made his home with his mother, and she is mourned by several brothers and sisters and other relatives, one of whom, Mrs. Oliver Logan, is a resident of Casa Verdugo. Mrs. Bombard was a woman of fine character and was greatly beloved by her neighbors, who sincerely mourn her loss. Funeral services will be held Monday at 10:30 a. m. at the Pulliam Undertaking Parlors, and interment will be made in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1918

YOUR COUNTRY WAITS—MR. MUHLEMAN GIVES TWO REASONS FOR SUPPORTING LOAN IN CLOSING HOURS

The time in which to subscribe to the Fourth Liberty Loan is fast drawing to a close. Glendale has done well, in the past; her people have subscribed well toward the Fourth Liberty Loan because her people are loyal to our country and our cause; but there are some who have not done all that they can do, and some may not have felt the necessity of subscribing because of the rumors of peace. In addition to this, the order of the Health Officer prohibiting public gatherings has had the effect of preventing activity as in the past on the part of the Committee. It is well that in the closing hours of this campaign you bear in mind why you should do all you can to make this loan a success. There are many reasons, but I shall only call your attention to two of them.

The first is, because it is the patriotic duty of every American to give to his country and its cause at this time all of his physical, moral, and financial support. Germany is not yet conquered, and every obstruction that she can place in the way of conquering her, be that by an armistice, or a failure of our Liberty Loan, means that she will have the advantage of that time to reorganize her units, with consequent greater cost to the Allies in lives and money. It may be that YOUR boy will be the one to pay the great sacrifice because of lack of funds, for war is grim business, and in conducting it money is the very sinews. Napoleon, in speaking of the factors of success in war, made the observation that three things were necessary to its successful outcome—first, money; second, more money; and third, still more money. Will you not do for your country what many would do for their friends, that is, loan it your credit to help it in time of need? Others have given their sons and brothers, some of whom sleep the sleep that knows no waking, on the battlefields of France. Can we forget their sacrifice for our cause and the cause of the Allied nations in behalf of the peace of the world, and in the interest of humanity! I feel sure we will not.

The second reason is one that appeals to you from the standpoint of investment. In loaning money to your Government you are loaning to the richest nation on the Globe. Your money is safe, safer than loaning it on mortgages at a higher rate of interest; it is better than stocks in corporations that may or may not be a success, and by purchasing bonds you acquire a habit of saving that you might otherwise not acquire. The habit of thrift is essential to success, and under the arrangements that you will be able to make with your banker, or your employer, time will be given to pay, a habit of saving will grow on you, and here and there expenditures for non-essentials will be curbed to the end that you pay for your Liberty Bonds.

Even if it should mean a small sacrifice to you to do this, you must try to remember that this is a war of sacrifice, far greater to some than we fully realize; but it is all to the end that those ideals, which to the free peoples of the earth are dearer than life, shall be maintained on a sound and permanent peace, a peace that future generations must reverently recognize was purchased for them at such great cost.

In closing, let me urge that you do not delay, but this evening go to, or call up your local bank, and arrange for your bonds, remembering that our country awaits your action, as well as a sinister enemy who hopes that you will fail to do your duty.

FRANK L. MUHLEMAN.

Personals

Mrs. Fuelscher of 114 South Louise street is just recovering from an attack of influenza.

Mrs. Theodore Peirce of 317 Vine street has been ill of grippe since the first of the week, but is considerably better, her husband reports.

Mrs. M. A. Anderson of South Isabel street is away in the Palo Verde Valley, where she is visiting Mr. Anderson, who has a ranch at Blythe.

Mrs. F. C. Hoffman of 1119 Wilson avnue developed a case of appendicitis Wednesday and was taken to a Los Angeles hospital, where an operation was performed the same night. Latest reports received indicated that she was doing finely.

Erwin Isaac, son of G. G. Isaac of 501 North Maryland, returned Friday from an automobile trip to San Diego and through Imperial Valley. He was employed as expert driver by the Maxwell Automobile Company. He reports a big wind storm in the territory of Santa Ana, Friday.

Mrs. Flora Pixley of Lomita avenue spent Thursday in Long Beach with Mrs. Hoopes, a former resident of Glendale. Mrs. Pixley says the division to which her son, Guy Pixley, belongs is now on the fighting front in France and she is very anxious.

Miss Clara Midcalf, teacher in the Intermediate school, reports that her brother-in-law, F. O. Haskell, who has been critically ill of pneumonia, manifests symptoms of improvement today and the attending physician holds out some hope of his recovery. Miss Alice Midcalf, sister of Miss Clara, is also at the Haskell home and is ill of the prevailing cold.

Mrs. Charles Grist, who receives daily letters from her son George, has been somewhat disturbed by the last one received yesterday morning in which he reported a "touch of influenza." He was at a port of embarkation expecting to soon board a transport for "over there," and declared he was not going to allow it to keep him here. Mrs. Grist expects further news from him today.

Guy F. Maxwell, who has been home for a two weeks vacation which he spent with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Maxwell, at 136 West Park avenue, returned Thursday to Bisbee, Arizona, where he is the assayer in the office of the Shattuck and Arizona Mine. He is a registrant and is making an effort to secure induction for work as a chemist in the manufacture of munitions.

Since the doctors have announced that to escape "flu" you must get all the sleep possible and avoid overwork, there has been a noticeable increase in the persons "threatened" with the complaint. We can understand now that the tramps and I. W. W.'s who have been regarded as shirks were simply protecting themselves and incidentally trying to preserve the country from a fearful malady.

DEATH OF E. E. STARRETT

Elburn Everette Starrett, 576 Tejunga avenue, Burbank, passed away at his home October 17 at the age of 64 years and 8 months. Mr. Starrett had lived in Burbank about a year, coming from Battle Mountain, Nevada.

Funeral services in charge of the Pulliam Undertaking Co. of Glendale were held Saturday at 3 o'clock at the home. The remains were taken by the widow to the old home at Battle Mountain for burial.

THE GOAT CAME BACK

Miss A. L. Wheeler of the Sycamore Heights Goat Ranch in Sycamore canyon reports that the milch goat which has been missing from her ranch for two weeks, returned apparently of her own volition and entered her corral. She has probably discovered that "There's no place like home." Miss Wheeler feels very grateful to and wishes to thank the friends who so kindly helped in the search for the goat.

DEATH OF DESSA FAE SEIDEL

Late Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Dessa F. Seidel of 426 Ivy street, Glendale, passed away after an illness of some months.

The Seidel family came to Glendale from Illinois in July, hoping the change would benefit Mrs. Seidel, but the trouble was too far advanced.

The body will be taken back to Chicago on Sunday, where services will be held. The Scovern-Letton-Frey Co. are in charge.

SHAKESPEARE SECTION

The Shakespeare Section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club will not have another meeting until further notice.

The Glendale Evening News is delivered only to persons whose subscriptions are paid in advance.

"Absconded"

That word brings nothing but unpleasant thoughts to every right-minded man. It is about the last thing he expects to do, and he would resent with all the force of his nature any insinuation that he would ever have such a word spoken of him.

And yet there are men in Glendale, who, if they should be suddenly stricken down by influenza, pneumonia, or any other disease, would leave their property (if, indeed they have any) so encumbered, and their estate so badly impaired, that they would really be absconding as far as protection to their families is concerned.

Make sure that you are not one of these. Protect your family with an income in the only sure way—through life-insurance. A Provident Endowment not only protects your estate, but your own old age.

GLENDALE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTICE

Let us not forget to lay by on the first day of the week our usual weekly offering, as God has prospered us, and so at our next gathering together in His house be ready with our gifts to our Heavenly Father.

The pastor would remind his people once more that as far as is possible on Sunday each Christian family will devote an hour to the study of the Sunday School lesson and to the worship of God. "For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them."

ENGLISH LUTHERAN CHURCH

Tomorrow will be another Sunday when the churches in Glendale will be closed on account of the influenza. Every Sunday School scholar and teacher and officer should see to it that they get acquainted with the lesson for the day, thus keeping in line with the lessons when the school resumes its services. Do not neglect the reading of the Holy Word and prayer. Pray for the success of the Gospel, the Church, the conversion of the heathen, for the President, for peace, for Congress, your enemies and yourself.

cuits, one of cakes and one of chocolate. He asked for a can opener, opened the milk, sat down at a table in the hut and ate and drank it all in less time than it takes me to write it. How happy he looked. I don't think he was over 18 years old. He had walked in three miles to get this stuff. Many of the men will buy a can of fruit and sit down and eat every bit of it in a very few minutes, a can large enough for a whole family at home.

Aug. 15.—My birthday package (mailed last February) reached me yesterday, all in prime condition, the wrapper scarcely soiled. You certainly had wrapped it well and everything was still good, the dates, raisins, etc., perfect. I did enjoy it. Had given it up as lost.

Aug. 25.—Arrived at my new place Saturday night. Sunday had to find a suitable place for my canteen. Secured two rooms in a house. First gave the rooms a good sweeping. Will scrub the floor and wash the one window in each. I expected supplies from noon on. They arrived at 6:30 p. m. and then till 9 was one grand rush, for the men had not had things for several days. Result, I had neither dinner nor supper, except at noon a drink of coffee and some stewed dried apples. Fortunately I had bought a pint of fresh milk, so after all was over I had crackers and milk. This morning I went for a ride of about five miles on our truck. We went about due north to within a mile of the Fatherland.

Sunday, Sept. 1.—Have had a busy day. Cleaned up the rooms, shaved, put on my dress suit and sold goods in the canteen from 9:30 to 10:30. Then conducted a service outdoors in front of the tent. Had a good sized audience. After dinner held a communion service in my room. The boys said it was a helpful service and thanked me very much. One said it was the first communion service he had attended since in the army. Then two chaplains and a K. of C. called on me. Made them some lemonade. Canteen, 4:30 to 5:30. Then a lieutenant came in who had slept in my room. He came from a front line position, so I fixed my spare bed for him and made him comfortable. Canteen 7-8 p. m. At 8 went outside to hold a service. Found quite a group of men very much interested in watching and promoting a boxing match between two small French boys. The rain beginning to fall, in a lull in the boxing I mounted a bench and began the service, although quite dark. Had the boys lead in a couple of hymns. In response to my call for a favorite hymn some boy called out "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." I thought that rather striking. Had the men sing a verse or two and I told them the story of how the song was written. Then I talked and there was more rain. I had on my raincoat but the boys had not. I thought it very strange, but hardly a man left. Then in the midst of it all, the "Y" truck with some supplies arrived. The driver called out to go on, he would wait. But it rained harder, so we had to bring the service to a close, which I did with prayer. Then took care of new supplies, counted my day's receipts and took care of several other small matters. So the day has gone.

Sept. 3.—Our daily papers, 100 or 200 of them, usually come in at night between 7 and 8 p. m., the Paris edition of the N. Y. Herald and the London "Mail" (both printed in English), of the day of issue, then you should see the crowd. The boys almost fight to get a paper, especially of late when the news is so good. Sometimes they do not arrive till very late. When they come after the men have gone to their bunks, the next morning I take the papers and go out on the street and in a voice that can be heard half way to Fritz's land I cry out. "Morning papers, last edition, all about the great war—New York Herald, Daily Mail." I vary the cry from time to time, and the boys come rushing out of billets, barracks, barns and sheds to get papers. Even the officers come. This paper call and selling has become quite a "stunt." The boys appreciate it and I greatly enjoy it.

Sept. 5.—Yesterday I rode on horseback some six kilometers and visited a town which before the war had more people in it than Long Beach, now hardly a civilian in it and those few who are there must leave. It seemed sad to walk through the deserted streets. Tomorrow not a civilian man, woman, child, not a chick nor a cow will be left. It is pathetic to see old people who have lived in a village all their lives, compelled to leave their homes. There were several real old women, one over 90 years old who begged, "Let me stay. I would rather be killed here than go."

Sept. 9.—I have been worked to a "frazzle." The last four or five days have been one continuous rush from 6 a. m. till midnight. The reason is I have written so many money orders. I am always glad to do this for the men, for if it is not done right away when they have the money, they so often spend it or lose it by gambling. I suppose that I am serving now about 1500 men. In the last four days I have done over 25,000 francs of business. Of this amount, probably 22,000 francs is money orders to send home. While I have some soldier help in the canteen, I have to attend to all money orders myself. Must open the canteen now. With regards to all my good friends.

THE FLU IN WASHINGTON, D. C.

(Special Correspondence)

WASHINGTON, D. C. October 19.—The war-time capital of the United States is slowly recuperating from a severe and prolonged attack of influenza, so termed Spanish. The effectual means with which the plague was combatted, however, is a matter for cities such as Glendale to consider, as the "flu" is moving westward, taking its toll of human lives, especially among the young.

The older person who has wintered a spell or two of the influenza—and the present malady is the same old thing with a new name—does not give in so easily to the ravages of the disease.

With the younger person who is used to steam-heated bedrooms, warm offices, and too few clothes, the disease finds its first victims.

Close sleeping quarters, congested street cars, theatres, churches, etc., were responsible for the great spread of influenza on the east coast of the United States. Cities are overcrowded with employes of war industry although strenuous methods of relief are being taken by the housing and welfare boards.

To break the hold of the plague in the Capital City, all public meetings were closed indefinitely, street car windows arbitrarily kept open, rooming houses and apartments ordered to furnish heat to tenants, and all influenza victims cared for immediately by civilian, army and navy doctors. Emergency stations with doctors, automobiles, ambulances and necessary medicines were provided throughout the city.

While a few people left Washington on account of the influenza, residents of Southern California planning to make their home here or in the East need not fear the ravages of the disease as it is effectually combatted and is no worse here than elsewhere. In fact, the people moving out of the Capital were in more danger than those remaining at home, for the disease is necessarily contracted in public places.

Praise for the untiring efforts of the medical men, officials and nurses will be on the lips of the thousands of war-workers here who come from New Orleans to Portland, Maine, and from New York to Los Angeles.

A few practical hints for the householder in keeping the influenza from his home is the use of onions, quinine, cascara, citrus fruits, and other cold combative remedies. Inoculation against pneumonia by army doctors here has been effectual in stemming many serious cases of la grippe and influenza.

RED CROSS WORKERS ARE REQUESTED TO COLLECT PLATINUM AND TIN

Red Cross workers throughout the country are requested to devote part of their time to collecting platinum and tin for government uses. The campaign is being undertaken at the request of the War Industries Board. Despite the wide gulf that has hitherto separated lowly tin from aristocratic platinum, these two extremes in metals are now brought to a common level.

Five thousand more tons of tin than the customary sources can be expected to yield are required to meet the government needs, according to an estimate of the War Industries Board. In a statement emphasizing the necessity for this metal, the board points out that the entire industries of the country are dependent upon tin in some form or other; that it would be impossible to operate an ocean steamship or build a railroad car without it. Last year the world's output of tin was 124,423 tons, and of this amount the United States used 17,257 tons, or fifty-eight per cent of the entire production.

The platinum shortage is not yet serious, but the government program makes it imperative that the reserve supply be increased. As the production of platinum in Russia, the country which furnished the greater part of the world's supply, has been abandoned because of the chaotic conditions, the government has deemed it advisable to appeal to individuals to help build up the platinum reserve. Platinum is needed in the making of contact points for tractors, trucks, automobiles, telegraph and telephone systems, wireless apparatus, and instruments for hospital and laboratory work. One ounce of the metal will make points for magnetos to operate 150 trucks or tractors.

Red Cross workers are gathering tin foil of every kind, collapsible tubes—such as contain tooth paste, shaving soap and the like—and pewter articles. Tin cans, which contain only a trifling percentage of tin, are not included in the list. Each Red Cross chapter has been instructed to ship its tin in ton lots to the nearest member of a war service association of solder manufacturers. This association has agreed to buy all the tin collected. Chapters will be allowed to keep the proceeds of both tin and platinum sales, the chief concern of the Red Cross as a whole being that enough of the metals be collected to help reduce their shortage.

Because much of the jewelry containing platinum has a sentimental value Red Cross workers have been instructed not to urge citizens to part with such articles.

JAPAN MAY TALK AT PEACE TABLE

(By United Press)

TOKIO, Sept. 20. (By Mail.)—Japan's chief goal at the peace conference should be to obtain an open door for immigration to Australia, India, Canada and the United States, writes E. Uyehara, member of parliament, in "Japan and the Japanese," a popular fortnightly magazine of Tokio. Uyehara was a member of the parliamentary commission which visited America early this year.

"In England, the League of Nations theory is finding strong support, Uyehara writes. "A league can not be realized when Britain, which possesses so much of the earth, adopts an exclusive policy in her own territory. Should all the natural resources in British possessions be monopolized permanently by their own nationals, it would be inevitable that the non-British nations would pursue a militaristic aggressive policy against her.

"America is fighting to safeguard the independence and rights of the small nation, it claims. This must mean that the small nations are to be given the right of developing their own destiny without molestation or interference. It is not calculated to guarantee the independence and rights of small nations for strong powers to monopolize the benefits accruing from their vast natural resources.

"Again, the policy of confining a large number of people within their own territory of limited dimensions, such as Japan, does not tend to assist the civilzation of the world, nor is such a policy calculated to bring about the peace of the world.

"It is clear in these circumstances that Japan's advocacy of the open door principle will meet with no dissent from Britain or America, even though it may be recognized that the immediate enforcement of this principle is attended with many difficulties.

"While claiming the open door in territories bordering the Pacific, Japan ought to insist that America grant independence to the Philippines. America's suspicions of Japan have been the obstacle to her granting this independence, and therefore Japan's expression of readiness to guarantee the independence, acting in cocert with Great Britain and America, may induce the latter to comply with Japan's proposal.

"Japan also must insist that Hawaii be made a neutral one. The Independence of the Philippines and the neutrality of Hawaii are not questions which are important for their own sake, but Japan must contrive for their realization as a means to give effect to America's principle of safeguarding the independence and rights of small nations, and also as the first step in the direction of enforcing the open door principle in regard to immigration.

"Japan's efforts to carry this great principle at the peace conference may pave the way for establishment of a great international ideal, even though her efforts are not crowned with immediate success. Moreover, her claims will be received with universal sympathy and support by the Asiatic peoples, and thus the foundation will be laid for Japan's assumption of the leadership of Asia."

ORDINANCE NO. 340

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE PRESENTING AND AUDITING OF DEMANDS AGAINST THE CITY OF GLENDALE, REPEALING ORDINANCE NO. 293 AND ORDINANCE 326.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale Do Ordain as Follows:

SECTION 1. That all claims or demands of any character whatsoever against the City of Glendale shall be presented to and audited by the Board of Trustees thereof in the manner herein provided; and upon allowance of any such demand by said Board, a warrant shall be drawn therefor as provided by law, upon the fund, and for the amount for which such demand is allowed. Except as herein otherwise provided, all such claims and demands shall be in writing, and filed with the City Clerk, and shall be presented by the City Clerk to the Board of Trustees at their next regular meeting after the filing thereof. Demands may be acted upon by said Board at any regular meeting.

SECTION 2. Demands for the salaries or wages of all officers and employees of the City which have been fixed by ordinance or resolution, shall be presented and audited as follows:

At the first regular meeting of the Board of Trustees in each calendar month, the City Manager shall present to the Board a pay roll, or pay rolls, showing the names of the respective officers and employees, segregated by departments, together with the offices held by them, or the capacity in which they have been employed, the rate of salary or wages of each officer or employee, the amount of time for which he is to be paid, the gross amount due him as salary or wages for the preceding calendar month, and the fund from which the same is payable (and the budget account or accounts to which the same should be charged). Each such pay roll shall be approved by the City Manager and also by the head of the department, if any, in which officer or employee is engaged, before the same is presented to the Board. The Board of Trustees may correct such pay roll, if necessary, and approve the same in whole or in part; and when such pay roll is approved and allowed as a whole, such action shall operate as an allowance of each claim for salary or wages shown thereon. If such pay roll is not allowed as a whole, the order allowing the same shall specify which items are allowed, and such order shall not be deemed a rejection of any item not allowed unless it expressly so states.

SECTION 3. Any person desiring to present a demand against the City for services rendered and not above provided for, or for materials or supplies of any kind furnished to the City, or for money due from the City on any contract, shall file an itemized bill therefor which shall set forth the particular character of any services performed, or work done, and where, when, by whom, and by whose order the same were performed or done, or the kind and quantity of materials or supplies furnished, when, to whom, and at whose order the same were furnished, and the price thereof, or the date of the contract on which such money is due from the City, the names of the other parties thereto and the amount due thereon. Every such bill shall be referred by the Clerk to the City Manager. The City Manager shall cause such bill to be checked by some officer or employee of the City who is familiar with the facts and shall, within one month after receipt thereof, certify on the bill or a form attached thereto, whether said bill is correct, and whether the claimant is entitled to immediate payment thereof either in whole or in part, and also out of what fund the same is payable (and to what budget account or accounts it should be charged), and shall present said bill to the Board of Trustees at their next regular meeting after he shall have made such certificate.

SECTION 4. In all cases not herein otherwise provided for, a demand against the City shall be filed with the City Clerk, setting forth the nature, items and amount of the claim made or liability asserted against the City, and the facts on which the same depends, and such demand shall be verified by the oath of the claimant or his agent that the facts stated in such demand are true and that the amount demanded is justly due the claimant over and above all payments or offsets.

SECTION 5. In case of the absence or inability of the City Manager from any cause to perform the duties imposed upon him by this ordinance, such duties shall be performed by the City Clerk.

SECTION 6. Ordinance No. 296 of the City of Glendale entiled "An Ordinance Regulating the Presenting, Auditing and Paying of Demands Against the City of Glendale and Repealing Ordinance No. 293 of said city" passed July 13, 1916, and Ordinance No. 326 of the City of Glendale entitled "An Ordinance Regulating the Presenting, Auditing and Paying of Demands Against the City of Glendale by Amending Section 2 of Ordinance No. 296A," passed February 21, 1918, and all ordinances amendatory of either of said ordinances, are hereby repealed.

INFLUENZA!

How to Avoid It! How to Care for Those Who Have It!

The following suggestions of the California State Board of Health may prove of immeasurable value to any man or woman who will read, remember and act upon them in the present great emergency. The counsel here set forth has been prepared after consultation with some of the ablest medical men in America. If you follow the dictates of this official bulletin, you will be doing your duty to your fellow man and to yourself.

What To Do Until the Doctor Comes

If you feel a sudden chill, followed by muscular pain, headache, backache, unusual tiredness and fever, go to bed at once.

See that there is enough bed clothing to keep you warm.

Open all windows in your bedroom and keep them open at all times, except in rainy weather.

Take medicine to open the bowels freely.

Take some nourishing food such as milk, egg-and-milk or broth every four hours.

Stay in bed until a physician tells you that it is safe to get up.

Allow no one else to sleep in the same room.

Protect others by sneezing and coughing into handkerchiefs or cloths, which should be boiled or burned.

Insist that whoever gives you water or food or enters the sick room for any other purpose shall wear a gauze mask, which may be obtained from the Red Cross or may be made at home of four to six folds of gauze and which should cover the nose and mouth and be tied behind the head.

Remember that these masks must be kept clean, must be put on outside the sick room, must not be handled after they are tied on and must be boiled five minutes and thoroughly dried every time they are taken off.

TO HOUSEHOLDERS

Keep out of the sick room unless attendance is necessary.

Do not handle articles coming from the sick room until they are boiled.

Allow no visitors, and do not go visiting.

Call a doctor for inmates who show signs of beginning sickness.

The usual symptoms are: Inflamed and watery eyes, discharging nose, backache, headache, muscular pain, and fever.

Keep away from crowded places, such as "movies," theatres, street cars.

See to it that your children are kept warm and dry, both night and day.

Have sufficient fire in your home to disperse the dampness.

Open your windows at night. If cool weather prevails, add extra bed clothing.

TO WORKERS

Walk to work if possible.
Avoid the person who coughs or sneezes.
Wash your hands before eating.
Make full use of all available sunshine.

Do not use a common towel. It spreads disease.

Should you cough or sneeze, cover nose and mouth with a handkerchief.

Keep out of crowded places. Walk in the open air rather than go to crowded places of amusement.

Sleep is necessary for well-being—avoid over-exertion. Eat good, clean food.

Keep away from houses where there are cases of influenza.

If sick, no matter how slightly, see a physician.

If you have had influenza, stay in bed until your doctor says you can safely get up.

TO NURSES

Keep clean. Isolate your patients.

When in attendance upon patients, wear a mask which will cover both the nose and the mouth. When the mask is once in place, do not handle it.

Change the mask every two hours. Owing to the scarcity of gauze, boil for 5 minutes and rinse, then use the gauze again.

Wash your hands each time you come in contact with the patient. Use bichloride of mercury, 1-1000, or Liquid Cresol compound, 1-100, for hand disinfection.

Obtain at least seven hours' sleep in each twenty-four hours. Eat plenty of good, clean food.

Walk in fresh air daily.

Sleep with your windows open.

Insist that the patient cough, sneeze or expectorate into cloths that may be disinfected or burned.

Boil all dishes.

Keep patients warm.
